For 50 years, the Society of Publication Designers has been dedicated to promoting and encouraging excellence in editorial design and photography. We celebrate the achievements and rich history of our organization with this 50th anniversary annual. ¶ A jury of industry leaders has selected this winning work from over 6,000 entries. The work featured here represents the very best of 2014 and recognizes the creative talents producing outstanding work across a number of platforms. ¶ We congratulate our winners and celebrate the history and future of SPD. 50 years later, SPD is stronger than ever. While many things have changed over time, our common goal of community and celebrating creative excellence remains.
